

Special Agreement For Taking CISC 223 and CISC 497 Concurrently

Students who are permitted to take CISC 223 and CISC 497 during the same semester must understand and accept the following:

- It was unwise to defer CISC 223 for two years.
- I recognize that I am being given an extraordinary concession in being allowed to take two overlapping courses.
- I will attend all CISC 497 sessions except those Wednesday classes where there are tests in CISC 223.
- I will write the CISC 223 quiz at the same time and place as the rest of the CISC students (aside from special consideration guaranteed by my accommodation letter, if any).
- I will take full responsibility for making up any material I miss in CISC 223.
- The fact that I am taking these two courses concurrently will not entitle me to extensions on assignments, individual tutoring, or any other special treatment.
